Baby Swags Sends Angelina Jolie and Shiloh a First Birthday Baby Swags Surprise Basket to Help Celebrate Their Big Day.

Baby Swags helps to celebrate the one year milestone of Shiloh with a baby basket full of work at home mom inspired products.

Plainfield, IL (PRWeb) June 14, 2007 – Baby Swags has teamed up with four upcoming work at home mom companies to provide one year old celebrity baby, Shiloh Jolie-Pitt with a birthday basket consisting of hand crafted and mom-inspired products.

Baby Swags and the companies that participated in this gift basket just love and respect Angelina Jolie for all her humanitarian work and wanted to help celebrate the first birthday of her daughter, Shiloh with a gift basket.

“Seeing as this is her first birthday, Baby Swags wanted to help make this moment special by sending her a basket full of goodies that were created by other moms.” Phyllis Pometta, founder of Baby Swags states.

Tipsie toes provided Shiloh and big sister Zahara with their soft soled shoes. The pink style "Emily" and the black style "Lola". Little Shiloh has turned one year old, and TipsieToes have flexible soles that are especially designed for the young walker. We hope that she has many months of running, jumping, and playing in her TipsieToes!

Brianna Baby Wear has sent Nancy 100% pima cotton, tag less products such as their turquoise spring garden outfit, denim overall and white tee. To find out more about these embroidered pima cotton products, visit www.briannababy.com

“My Baby Can Talk” DVD series (available at www.mybabycantalk.com) was developed on the principle that babies can communicate at a very early age using simple gestures. This fourteen time award winning series give babies and parents an effective way to communicate at an early age, reducing frustration for both and creating a special bond that is so important for healthy child development. One of the greatest human needs is to be understood and we are committed to fulfilling this need for preverbal babies.
