

Work at home moms join Baby Swags in providing a customized baby gift basket that included handcrafted gifts to the proud parents and their new bundles of love.

Plainfield, II - May 19, 2009 - Two and a Half Men star Charlie Sheen and wife Brooke Mueller Sheen had welcomed twin boys named Max and Bob, and when Baby Swags heard the news, they couldn't help but put their network of mom-entrepreneurs to the twins test. Each company that provided the Sheen family with their products worked double time to insure that the pair would be able to utilize each product to its fullest. Each of the products included were also touched by the hands of a mom, or were inspired by a mom and with that, it makes these gifts extra special. To see a closer look at what the twins received, visit the Baby Swags website.

The following companies provided gifts to Max and Bob:

Magnolia Baby - Provided the Sheen boys with their high-end layette sets. So much thought and care goes into choosing your baby's name, Magnolia Baby's personalized layette set is a perfect way to celebrate it.

LibraKnits provided each boy with their own hand-made Spro baby hat which is a soft and comfy gift for baby's first months of life.

BabyKakesInk - Provided their unique embroidered initial onesies for each baby boy.

Ritzy Baby - Provided each boy with their own comfortable minky fabric stroller and travel blanket in a funky baby boy blue giraffe print.
